Japan’s Role in Peacebuilding in Asia

Why Peacebuilding?

1. Peacebuilding as a global challenge

Globalization Paradox

World is globalizing, beyond borders (unevenly, though): Within borders, however, peoples and communities are often divided, particularly in fragile states.

Wealth Gaps

“The Bottom Billion” and the Rest, now, exacerbated by the rise in food and energy prices, by the climate change, by spread of infectious diseases, and by global financial crisis….

Civil/communal wars > inter-state wars

…in many post-conflict countries

Peacebuilding Challenge

Need to cut the vicious cycle of conflict and poverty
Why Peacebuilding?

2. Peacebuilding Needs and Gaps?

Peacebuilding Needs
- Approx. 80% of countries with lower Human Development Index (HDI) have experienced violent civil wars in the post-Cold War period.
- 44% of civil wars reignite within 5 years after peace agreements.
- The risk of renewed conflict goes up around 1 year after post-conflict elections.

Peacebuilding is …
“Action to identify and support structures which will tend to strengthen and solidify peace in order to avoid a relapse into conflict “

But, frequently, Peacebuilding Gaps in transition:
between Peacekeeping and Peacebuilding (PB Gap 1)
between Peacebuilding and Economic Recovery (PB Gap 2)
Challenges of Peacebuilding in Asia

1. Nature of nation-state in Asia
(1) Ethnic nation based on (more or less single) ethnicity
(2) Territorial nation based on a pre-defined territory, composed of several ethnic groups, which became integrated into a nation

2. Difficulty of “Imagining” nation
Territorial nation is common in Asia, but it is not normally “imagined” (nor integrated) as a single community.

cf. Nation as an “imagined community” (B. Anderson)
Peacebuilding Gaps

The Core Business of Multi-dimensional UNPKOs and Peacebuilding Gaps

INDICATIVE POST-CONFLICT TASKS

- Infrastructure
- Employment
- Economic Governance
- Civil administration
- Elections
- Political processes
- Security operations
- DDR
- Rule of law
- Human rights
- Capacity building
- Humanitarian assistance

STABILIZATION

PEACE CONSOLIDATION

LONG-TERM RECOVERY AND DEVELOPMENT

Why Peacebuilding Gaps?

Diagnose: Lack of …
- sustained international attention
- sustained mutual commitment
- sustained mutual coordination
- sustained resource mobilization

Prescription: Filling the gaps strategically by developing and implementing an integrated peacebuilding strategy in the transition from conflict to peace

Establishment of Peacebuilding Commission (PBC) as an outcome of UN reform of 2005
UN Peacebuilding Commission (PBC)

Establishment of the PBC

- Recommended in High-level Panel on Threats, Challenges and Change in 2004
- Proposed by the Secretary-General Annan in his “In larger Freedom” Report in March 2004
- Formally established by A/60/180 and S/RES/1695 in December 2005.

PBC and Peacebuilding Architecture
UN Peacebuilding Architecture

- Peacebuilding Commission
  - Organizational Committee (31 Members, IFIs and Institutional Donors)
  - Country Specific Configurations: Burundi / Sierra Leone, Guinea-Bissau / CAR
  - Working Group on Lesson Learned

- Secretary-General
- Peacebuilding Support Office
- Peacebuilding Fund
- Advisory Group
UN Peacebuilding Commission (PBC)

- Est. 12/20/2005 as a result of UN Reform as “an intergovernmental advisory body” and a subsidiary body of both Security Council and GA
- Mandate: promote post-conflict peacebuilding by
  - bringing together all relevant actors (UN/non-UN)
  - helping develop “Integrated PB strategy”
  - sustaining attention & marshalling resources → to fill critical peacebuilding gaps
- Members: 31 UN Member States
  plus IFIs and institutional donors (EU/EC, OIC)
UN Peacebuilding Commission (PBC)

Leadership in PBC
1. PBC (Organizational Committee) Chair
   Angola → Japan (6/2007-12/'08) → Chile
2. Country Specific Configurations: Chairs
   Burundi: Norway → Sweden
   Sierra Leone: the Netherlands → Canada
   Guinea-Bissau: Brazil
   Central African Republic: Belgium
3. Lessons Learned WG: Chair
   El Salvador
Sierra Leone and PBC

Sierra Leone Peacebuilding Cooperation Framework, 3 December 2007

Developed at SLE-CSM led by Amb. Majoor (Netherlands)

Priority Areas for Sierra Leone
1. Youth employment and empowerment
2. Justice and security sector reform
3. Consolidation of democracy and good governance
4. Capacity-building
5. Energy sector
6. Sub-regional dimension of peacebuilding

Commitment and Responsibility of SLE gov’t and people

Coordination and coherence among UN & non-UN actors

Biannual Review
Sierra Leone and PBC

How the PBC process can/will change bilateral assistance to Sierra Leone?

Example of Japan’s support to Sierra Leone.
- Visit of Mr. Hamanda, Vice Minister of Foreign Affairs in July 2007 (before the Presidential/parliamentary election) to assess at first hand specific needs and gaps in peacebuilding as discussed at the PBC CSM, and announced debt cancellation and concrete support to Sierra Leone in line with the priorities of the CSM discussion.
- Visit by Mr. Oshima, Senior Vice President of JICA and former Permanent Representative of Japan to the UN and the Chair of the PBC in January 2008.
Concrete example of the attempt to bridge between peacekeeping and peacebuilding and between peacebuilding and economic recovery.
The message is clear:

“Failure is not an option”
(Ms. Bangura, Minister of Foreign Affairs)
We must succeed in PB support in SLE

But, still, the challenges:
- financial resources
- additional issues: drug trafficking, organized crime, etc.
- post-UN mission financial predictability
- shift from dependency to self-sustaining growth
Guinea-Bissau and PBC

Strategic Framework for Peacebuilding in Guinea-Bissau, 31 July 2008 (PBC/3/GNB/3)

Priority Areas for GNB:

1. Elections and institutional support to the electoral Commission
2. Measures to jump-start the economy and rehabilitate the infrastructure, in particular in the energy sector.
3. Security and defense sector reform
4. Strengthening of the justice sector, consolidating the rule of law and fighting against drug trafficking
5. Public administration reform
6. Social Issues critical to peacebuilding

Next, Timor-Leste

A discussion and consultations are undergoing to see if it is useful to add Timor-Leste to the agenda of the PBC.
PBC’s Business Model

1. Receives a letter of request (=demonstration of political will to pursue peace) from country X to be on PBC agenda (to SC)

2. Organizational Committee decides to place the country on the PBC agenda (normally from the referral from the SC)

3. OC establishes a new country specific meeting (CSM), together with the selection of the chair of that configuration.

4. CSM starts developing/drafting an “integrated peacebuilding strategy” (e.g. Strategic Framework) with key priority areas for peacebuilding support by incorporating the views of host government and people and relevant bilateral/multilateral donors and stakeholders, based on mapping.

5. Establishing an MTM (monitoring & tracking mechanisms)

6. Biannual review of the progress of IPBS by MTM

7. Removal from the PBC agenda when time comes
Japan’s Leadership at PBC

For making the PBC a viable & effective body, Japan
- tried to fostering PBC’s prestige in international arena,
- always stressed the need to listen to the local voices and seek tangible progress on the ground by providing real added value thru PBC,
- developed practices for more effective work methods,
- regularized consultations with the leadership of Security Council, General Assembly, ECOSOC, and Secretary-General in the UN system, in addition to other relevant UN bodies relevant for peacebuilding (UNDP, UNHCR, etc.),
- strengthened ties with WB/IMF at top level,
Japan’s Leadership at PBC

- strengthened ties with regional organizations/banks and non-traditional actors (eg. the private sector),

- promoted advocacy and mainstreaming peacebuilding as an international policy priority,

- promoted common understanding on PB support: 9 point checklist for effective peacebuilding support efforts.
PBC Strategy and Policy Discussion

- Recognition/expansion of common understanding on the effective support to local peacebuilding efforts

  Intellectual leadership among key stakeholders for norm development.

Nine Points Checklist

1. Aren’t we trying to apply the same template to many different case? (No-One-Size-Fits-All.)

2. Are firm national ownership and the primary responsibility of national authority for peacebuilding present, respected and supported?

3. For ensuring a smooth handover from peacekeeping activities, are the linkages between security, development and human rights and rule of law adequately prioritized and sequenced as vital building blocks for peacebuilding?
Nine Points Checklist

4. For consolidating peace, are steady efforts for advancing a constructive political process for peace made effectively?

5. For capable and accountable nation-building, is an appropriate mix of support provided to ensure effective checks and balances in governing affairs and promote institutional capacity-building and reform?

6. For ensuring a seamless transition to recovery and economic development, is the steady and timely provision of tangible dividends for peace made available to the people?
Nine Points Checklist

7. For orchestrating national and international efforts to promote a smooth transition on the ground, are coordinated, coherent and integrated approaches properly planned by bringing all the relevant actors together under effective leadership?

8. Is the political will to take a longer-term view in favour of sustainable engagement demonstrated?

9. Is each of us ready to respond to the call of countries that require international attention and support? ……YES!

Peacebuilding as Diamond?

One would say that … Peace is precious.

In countries emerging from conflict, peacebuilding is necessary for sustainable peace and development.

It requires multidimensional and multifaceted efforts, and all facets/cuts have to come together to form a integrated whole.

for ensuring self-sustaining peace

Toward a “Peacebuilding Diamond”

Leadership of Nordic countries, including Denmark in Peacebuilding support activities

PBC’s IPBS Process

Japan’s Own Efforts:
- ODA/SDF
- PB support in Asia and Africa
- G8 Hokkaido-Toyako Summit PBC Chair (Political push/Advocacy/Nine Points...etc.)
  “Human Resource Development in Asia for Peacebuilding”
  “Human Security” perspective

Full Potential for Japan-Denmark/Nordic Joint Efforts!!
Conclusion

- Post-conflict peacebuilding is an important public policy area to be followed-up for the advancement of human security in the country in question and for the promotion of peace and stability of the world (and particularly in Africa and in Asia).

- Denmark’s efforts to establish the PBC was foresighted and admirable.

- Japan is playing proactive role and should continue its unique contribution as “Heiwa Kokka,” a country dedicated to peace, at the PBC, Security Council (hopefully as a new permanent member) and other fora.
Conclusion

- Full potential of cooperation between Japan and Nordic countries, and between Japan and Denmark, bilaterally or multilaterally (at the UN) for promoting peacebuilding in many parts of the worlds, based on our common values and expertise.

- In Asia, more regional cooperation should be encouraged, including the promotion of south-south cooperation.

- Joint studies among scholars in Japan and Nordic counties, including Denmark, will produce rich insight into the development of even more holistic policies and approaches for effective post-conflict peacebuilding.
