

China's international development cooperation: A catalyst for delivering the SDGs

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

3 September 2018

12:30-13:30

NIAS meeting room (18.1.08)

Feel free to bring your own lunch.
Coffee and tea will be served.

Bio

Dr. Zheng Yuan is an economist at UNDP (United Nations Development Programme) China, specializing in international development cooperation.

She has a solid background in economics, international trade and sustainable development. She received her PhD in economics at the University of Copenhagen.

Please register with kth@nias.ku.dk before 31 August